

MEMBER SERVICES

Educational Services

KWC procures grants to support educational services so landowners can easily access information. We offer workshops helping you:

- determine objectives for a management plan
- care for and get to know your own woods
- use a chainsaw safely
- explore the diversity of forest products

Forest Management Services

Available through KWC at favorable rates or from contractors we can recommend. A management plan is required for landowners to receive forestry management services. We can assist in:

- development of management plans
- tree marking and harvest inventories
- finding timber or log buyers
- connecting members with professional loggers
- supervision of your harvest

Forestry Store

Our forestry store provides members with:

- access to our rental forestry tools
- discounts on tool purchases

BECOME A MEMBER

Support the work of KWC by becoming a cooperative member.

Voting membership is open to all woodland owners. It includes a free introductory assessment of your woodland, workshop fee discounts, access to forestry and marketing services (if you have a forest management plan) and one share of membership stock. Voting members are welcome to participate in decision-making about the goals and operation of the co-op. The only obligation is the one-time $100 membership fee.

Associate or non-voting membership is open to all interested individuals or organizations for a one-time $100 single share membership and includes workshop discounts.

Kickapoo Woods Cooperative

Sustainable forestry services for landowners of the Kickapoo Valley and neighboring watersheds

WORKING TOGETHER FOR OUR FORESTS

The Kickapoo Woods Cooperative (KWC) works with landowners, public and private foresters, loggers, sawmill operators, secondary wood manufacturers, and other natural resource professionals in the region to create a broad, positive impact on the local forest industry and community.

We seek to:

- ensure the availability of quality forestry services to members
- facilitate sustainable woodland management and harvesting
- enhance the ecological and economic value of members' woodlands
- generate income for members
- create jobs and spur economic development

Our mission is to provide sustainable forestry education and management services to landowners of the Kickapoo Valley and neighboring watersheds.

The Co-op is dedicated to principles of sustainable forestry, a method of forest management that keeps all ecosystem functions in place while allowing continuous deviations. Any resource that is used must then be replaced, keeping the ecosystem perpetually renewed. Sustainable forestry recognizes both human values and the intrinsic value of land and nature.

Applied well, sustainable forestry provides:

- regeneration of trees
- perpetual supply of wood and forest products
- maintenance of soil, water, and air resources
- abundant wildlife habitat, and enjoyment of the natural world
